Participants of "National Championship" tournament

Re: 2017 4th Annual National Championship

On behalf of the National Lao Golf Association, Inc. 501c(3) "(NLGA)" our partners and affiliates, we thank everyone who participated in our 4th Annual Golf Tournament at Revere Golf Club. We wouldn't have had another successful tournament without the players and their families. Everyone sacrificed their time and money to support our growing effort to bring the Laotian community together.

Community Give Back: Junior Golfers And Military Service Men.

Setting the foundation for our youths is one of the many efforts NLGA is giving back to our community. This year, two (2) Junior golfers were awarded and participated in our tournament whom are exempt from tournament fees. Additionally, we also honored two(2) military service men by exemption as well. As we expand our efforts to give back to the community; this is an extension of our vision in uniting our Lao golf communities.

Sponsors , Volunteers And Supporting Golf Organizations:

A special Thank You to our sponsors, volunteers and supporting golf organizations. Your contribution is a reflection of what wonderful people and establishments you are. We are proud to promote your brand. Your sponsorship validates your belief in our cause. We look forward to future partnerships. We also hope new sponsors will partake in our event and help grow both our endeavors. We are forever grateful! We value our volunteers as one our staff members and we Thank You for taking your time away from your busy schedule to assist and help achieve our mission.

Executive Summary: Feedback are encouraged to improve our tournament experience.

The NLGA team has heard some of the feedback. Most were very positive and supportive. We thank you for motivating us to continue to work for you - our Laotian community. There were a few concerns and questions regarding the payout we'd like to address. Prior to the day of the tournament, our vision was to pay as promised based on the number of participants. Although we specified payouts were subject to change, there were still questions as to why we adjusted the amounts and even implications we were profiting from the event.

Here is why we had to adjust the payout. One week before the tournament, 197 players committed to play. That is the number the golf course charged us because contractually we had to give them a final count one week before. On the day of the tournament, the actual number of players that registered was 186. That means 11 people who committed decided to cancel or not show up. Out of the 186 that did show, 28 were exempted. That means their $250 entry fee was waived because some were junior golfers and some won an exemption from other tournaments through raffle drawings. That leaves only 156 players that paid the entry fee.

To recap, NLGA was charged 197 for green fees and only 156 paid the entry fee of $250. The green fee we agreed to pay was $60/player. NLGA still had to pay for the 11 players that did not show. That's $1320 wasted. In addition, we had expenses we had to incur to make everyone's experience as enjoyable as possible. We bought sandwiches for both days, we provided golf towels, and we had to pay the restaurant for food and entertainment. Those were some, not all, of the expenses that we had to incur. After we factored in the expenses, we had to adjust the payout based on availability of funds. Even then we barely broke even. Here are the tournament expenses and balance sheet for your reference.

NLGA Officers: SithNoy, Bounvilay, Ace, Nuny, Det, Jay, Perry, Troy

The NLGA team consists of 7 officers and volunteers. Every single person involved does not profit a single dime from this event. Rather, we voluntarily sacrificed our time and money to make it a great experience for everyone. The countless meetings, trips to buy supplies, time away from family and work, were all made independently by each officer and volunteer. The fulfillment we get is seeing the majority of participants that come year after year smile and laugh as they look to rekindle old friendships, make new ones, or just want to network with fellow Laotians and golfers.

We wholeheartedly thank everyone for taking the time to once again make this tournament another success. We hope you understand our position and will continue to offer your support. Until next year, please take care of yourselves and those you love.

Sincerely,

NLGA Team: SithNoy, Bounvilay, Ace, Nuny, Det, Jay, Perry, Troy
